

Owen Morris Named CFO of USPI

DALLAS – May 15, 2019 – United Surgical Partners International (USPI), a subsidiary of Tenet Healthcare (NYSE: THC), today announced that Owen Morris has joined as Chief Financial Officer of USPI. Morris, a seasoned investment banking executive, succeeds Jason Cagle, who departed USPI earlier this month. Morris reports to Dan Cancelmi, CFO of Tenet Healthcare, and Brett Brodnax, President and CEO of USPI.

Cancelmi said, “We are excited that Owen has chosen to join our organization and look forward to working alongside him as we continue to build the USPI platform and deliver value to our shareholders and the communities we serve. Owen’s deep experience, his passion for healthcare, and his relationship-driven approach to success are great qualities that complement our business.”

Brodnax said, “Owen has a proven track record of success working with stakeholders to drive mutually beneficial outcomes and is well-respected in the healthcare finance sector. We are fortunate to have Owen join USPI’s senior leadership team, and I am confident that he will be an excellent match for this role as we continue to pursue our growth strategies.”

Morris said, “I am excited to join the USPI team at a time when the business has such great potential for further success. I have long been impressed with what the USPI team has been able to achieve, and I am looking forward to working with Tenet and advancing USPI’s growth strategy.”

Owen Morris Biographical Information

Prior to joining USPI, Morris served as Managing Director and head of the Healthcare Real Estate practice at Goldman, Sachs & Co. He held various leadership positions at Goldman Sachs during his tenure of more than 11 years. Morris received his bachelor’s degree from the University of Texas and his master’s degree in business administration from the Stanford Graduate School of Business.
